“AS WE FACE A TIME OF CRISIS, WE ARE BEING ASKED TO STEP INTO HEART-CENTERED LEADERSHIP, EXPAND WHAT WE BELIEVE IS POSSIBLE AND THINK OUTSIDE THE BOX SO WE CAN UNCOVER NOVEL SOLUTIONS TO THE COMPLEX CHALLENGES WE FACE. I BELIEVE PSYCHEDELICS AND SACRED PLANT MEDICINES ARE HERE TO HELP US DO THAT.

~LAURA DAWN

Laura Dawn's Bio

"Host of The Psychedelic Leadership Podcast and founder of Grow Medicine, Laura Dawn is a microdosing mentor and plant medicine integration guide for change-makers, thought-leaders, entrepreneurs, and creators.

Through her signature mastermind programs and retreats, Laura Dawn weaves together science with the wisdom teachings of Eastern philosophy to teach you how to mindfully explore psychedelics and sacred plant medicines as powerful visionary tools for inner transformation and creative manifestation.

Through mindset, mindfulness training, and somatic awareness, she inspires you to expand the boundaries of what you believe is possible and embark on the path of heart-centered leadership to influence meaningful change.

Laura Dawn is a life-long entrepreneur and has over two decades of exploring altered states of consciousness. Currently, she is completing a Masters in Science specializing in Creativity & Change Leadership, and is at the forefront of exploring the intersection between psychedelics and creative problem-solving, helping leaders and teams unlock innovative solutions to the complex challenges we collectively face.

Wow, four podcasts in, and I have thoroughly enjoyed every episode and so looking forward to more! I appreciate Laura D's crystal clear intellect, grounded energy and willingness to bring forth these important topics in the field of psychedelics. There is tremendous potential for healing and transformation with the conscious intentional use of psychedelic medicine. I respect her courage to step out and take on the role of a leader in this field- She's an awesome live speaker/educator on these topics. Its awesome that she has now created this podcast for other leaders to share their wisdom and perspectives too. Thank you!!!

My experience with Laura Dawn and her microdosing program was beyond my wildest dreams. I was new to working with plant medicine and had no idea what microdosing was going to be like but now I understand why people go back to working with Laura Dawn over and over again. Thank God we now have her podcast for weekly wisdom and love! If you are considering working with Laura Dawn, trust me, she is the best of the best in every possible way.

Laura Dawn is a true visionary and change maker. Her desire to bridge the gap between deep healing work and visionary practices in order to instill real, positive change in the world is truly inspiring. I've attended both a plant medicine retreat that LD put together as well as participated in her microdosing course, both have had a profound impact on my life. She has a unique and creative way of bringing the mystical, scientific and practical understanding of these plant medicine teachers, and coupling them with visionary practices, in order to create real lasting change in our lives. I'm grateful to have the support of Laura as a member of my advisory board for The Härt Collective.

"I completed Laura Dawn's three-month microdosing mastermind, and I expected to learn the basics of microdosing. What I got was a download on how to integrate more subtle amounts of medicine into my daily life, connect to flow states, and align with my most profound work. The course and the practices helped me narrow in on the work I'm most called to do, while cutting out the distracting clutter. I've never felt like more of a rockstar, doing incredible work and being so damn happy with the fulfillment I find in the way I spend my days. I've worked with expensive executive coaches and the most renowned psychedelic therapists in the field, and Laura Dawn is who I want to work with as I refine my vision and navigate the ups and downs of life."
